Subject: Clarification on UK relationship and management from abroad

1. What is our relationship with the United Kingdom in the context of our business activities?

ATTOH COMMERCE LTD is a private limited company incorporated in the United Kingdom (Companies House number 17242162, incorporated 26 May 2026). Its registered office is in London and the company is registered with HMRC for Corporation Tax (UTR issued May 2026). Statutory filings are made with Companies House and HMRC, and the company keeps its accounts in GBP.

The company operates online fashion stores on Shopify (including soulsocietyboutique.com, ladyglamboutique.com, evermanclothing.com and shapeswardrobe.com) and sells clothing, shoes and accessories directly to consumers, mainly in the United States, Australia and New Zealand. A UK limited company was chosen as the legal entity for this international e-commerce business because of the UK's stable, internationally recognised company and tax framework and its compatibility with the payment and marketplace services we use (Shopify Payments, Google Ads, Payoneer). The company has no physical premises or employees in the UK; the London registered office is a registered office service.

2. How does the director fulfil their day-to-day obligations from abroad?

The sole director and 100% shareholder, Justin Attoh Veerman, lives in Hoorn, the Netherlands, and runs the business fully online from there. The business is digital by nature and requires no physical presence in the UK:

• Stores, orders and customer service are managed through Shopify and email; customer payments are processed by Shopify Payments.
• Orders are fulfilled by a third-party supplier who ships directly to customers, so no goods pass through the UK or through our own premises.
• Advertising is managed online via Google Ads; supplier invoices and software subscriptions are paid online.
• Statutory mail (Companies House, HMRC) is received at the registered office and forwarded to the director by the registered office provider. Filings with Companies House and HMRC are made online.
• Bookkeeping is kept digitally (monthly profit & loss per store, supplier invoices and payouts).

The Revolut Business account will be used to receive payouts from our sales platforms and to pay suppliers, advertising and software costs.

Kind regards,

Justin Attoh Veerman
